

Handbook for PLC Applied Leadership Experience Requirement

AY 2020-21

TABLE OF CONTENTS

<

<

<

<

This handbook provides an overview of the PLC along with instructions on how to the ALE process. We have modified this requirement and created a course to accompany the applied experience, as an . The course allows you to touch on all of the PLC pillars through one requirement.

Please read through the entire handbook before starting your Applied Leadership Experience (ALE).

Resources needed for your ALE are linked in the handbook, but are also linked below:

1. ALE Registration
2. Assigned Articles

The Presidents Leadership Class (PLC) Applied Leadership Experiences (ALEs) are a long-standing experiential aspect of our curriculum.

, we will not have the Fall 2020 PRLC 2930/4010 course. Therefore, students who might normally take the ALE course in the fall semester, will take the course in Spring 2021.

Using the acronym, ALE,

_____ the process of learning through experience, and is more specifically defined as "learning through reflection on doing." - Felicia, Patrick (2011). Handbook of Research on Improving Learning and Motivation.

The _____ combines experiential learning, defined above, and the following criteria:

Mixture of content () and process ()

Experience must be

Actively participating in the learning -

The assignments for your ALE will be separated into two parts,

,

The pre-course

4.

- You are responsible for

If you are fulfilling your ALE with either your _____ position or the _____, you do not have to take the ALE course, as you are already required to either take the student staff
